All communications must be accompanied by the names of the authors, and rejected communications cannot be returned.

"VARIATIONS."—It may be stupidity, or a lack of appreciation of the "fine points" of music, but we are in hearty sympathy with the writer who comes down on what are called "variations" by the musical people, showing up these musical eccentricities which one is expected to understand and pay for, at the risk of being considered bizarre if one does not.—Balt. Com.

"There is a rather amusing suggestion in the Orchestra, a London musical publication. The way in which musicians take a popular air and tease it to death with what they are pleased to called variations on it, is often trying enough to the patience of those who, with all their love of music, have no interest in feats of leg-fermain. It is irreverently proposed in the wicked journal we have named, to try the effect on poetical readers of introducing similar variations into poetry—as thus:

To be, fiddle—or not to be, diddle—
That is the question, de rol de dol day.
Whether 'tis nobler, doodle—in the mind to suffer, doodle—
The slings and arrows, noodle—of outrageous fortune, doodle—
Or to take arms, kafoozleum—against a sea of troubles, kafoozleum—and by opposing, end them, ti doodle, ti doodle, ti rary.

EXPENSES MUST BE REDUCED.—People must, whether they like it or not, reduce the expenses of living. The "N. Y. Financial Chronicle" thus observes the signs of the times:

"Luxuries are being curtailed; as an illustration of which we find the piano forte market over supplied, and dealers advertising their instruments for sale upon monthly instalments. Families are refusing to pay the late high rents for dwellings; and hence the 1st of May found large numbers of houses unlet. In every household the question is—how to reduce expenditures; and the result is very general complaints from the retail trade. This process of contracting expenses must go on yet further, until consumption is more evenly regulated by production; and then may we expect a healthier condition of trade." There must be a long a diminished demand for labor; which will again work out a reduction of wages, and a resulting decline in the cost of all products.

THE PANNIERS.—The most striking novelty of the season is the pannier—that is, a steel basket—which is worn over each hip, and, as described, is "exactly like the wicker receptacles in which butlers carefully carry oil Port or Chamberlain up to table. Between these there bulges out a hump far behind, and this is only the under-foundation for puffily silk contrivances above! With such a compact affair as this on, the trunk trade will fall, as every possible convenience for travelling can be safely deposited within the hip baskets." The most prodigious one of these panniers that has made its appearance in Paris was called Imperatrice. The wearers of these panniers in the public streets get well stared at, of course, and we are told often take to fidgets suddenly to escape the scrutinizing and comical gaze.

BUSTED.—A memorial was very generally distributed about Congress to-day, stating that an investigation into the conduct and character of Richard Busted, U. S. District Judge of Alabama, will establish clearly that he is an ignorant, arbitrary and tyrannical judge, and that it is the universal opinion in the community in which his office is exercised, that he is also a corrupt judge; and further, that he is certainly established that he has violated his duty as a judge, and his official oath by respecting persons in his judgments. The memorial is signed by General Swayne, the Radical Governor elect of Alabama; Governor Patton, Benjamin Fitzpatrick, and men prominent in both political parties in the State.—N. Y. World.

CURE FOR FOUNDER.—The Rural World proposes to cure founder in horses in this way: Take the horse into a brook or stream of water deep enough to nearly reach his body, and fasten him there with his head so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm keep him there several hours. Then remove him and rub his legs to promote circulation. If still lame, repeat the process two or three times and a cure will be effected. In the winter twenty minutes will be long enough to keep the horse in the water.

NOTICE.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF ALEXANDRIA CITY AND COUNTY.
Having been previously prohibited by the Slave Law from collecting the State tax, fee, bill, musters, etc., that I advanced and paid into the State Treasury previous to the war, and now being empowered to collect them, I will proceed at once upon that duty, confidently expecting all against whom I hold bills will come forward without delay and pay the same. All I ask for is that which I have advanced and paid for you eight years ago. No further indulgence will be given. I can be found at the City Hotel. I refer you to the law under which I am acting: Acts of Assembly, 1855 and '6, page 433.
